

Specialist firm will keep you in picture

A LANCASTER electrical specialist has beaten competition to secure a deal to supply guest televisions to the Lancaster House Hotel.

Robinson's Electric, a family firm based at the White Cross Industrial Estate, will also supply TVs to Low Wood Hotel at Windermere.

Owner, Phil Punt, said: "Despite the current economic downturn it proves that local independent companies can offer competitive prices, superior service and after-sales support to other local companies that will benefit the local economy overall."

The company is currently heavily involved in advising hotels and individuals on the forthcoming digital switchover<None>.